

URGES JERSEY'S RETENTION OF PRESENT COMPENSATION LAW

Attorney Edward M. Colie Discusses Master and Servant at Round Table Conference of Law and Home Department of Contemporary.

"Master and Servant" was the theme of the third in a series of round-table conferences held under the auspices of the committee on New Jersey law, at the home of the home department of the Contemporary Club, at the Y. W. C. A. building, yesterday afternoon.

Edward M. Colie, a lawyer, the speaker of the day, was introduced by Miss Paula Ladley, chairman of the committee, who made a brief preliminary address on the subject of the conference.

Miss Ladley reminded those present that in controversies between master and servant, mistress and maid, or employer and employee, it should not be forgotten, in the zeal to help the help, that the employer has rights that ought to be respected as well as those of the help. The importance of taking out insurance for employees and servants was also urged, inasmuch as the maximum yearly premium is only about $8 for one servant, with $3 for each additional servant.

Five Essential Points.

Five points were covered by Mr. Colie's discussion: Hiring and discharging; effect of the employer's liability act upon the relation of mistress and servant; liability of the servant in case of accident; liability for negligence of servant in injury to others, and how far is your servant your agent? Alleging that the laws in relation to the contractual relation between master and servant were rooted in antiquity, the speaker said that few new decisions have been rendered in recent years. Under the old English law the term of service for hiring servants was one year, such service being severed upon the giving of one month's notice by either party. In this State, however, according to a decision rendered in the early eighties, which has never been changed, no notice is required by law, whether the servant is paid by the week or by the month. The servant cannot be summarily discharged, however, without good cause. Good cause, as defined by law, embraces three contingencies: Wilful disobedience of a lawful order; grossly immoral conduct, and acts of negligence seriously injurious to the master's needs or business.

As such cases are tried by jury, the speaker advocated as the safest course for a master or mistress to follow, the payment of the servant's wages for the balance of the week or month, according as the service was paid for, and the recommendation that he take a vacation. By this policy danger of libel suits were avoided, the speaker explained. It is not the master's agent, because an agent is one who has the power to enter into contract relations, and the servant has no such power, although the servant may be clothed with such power by the master's permission to order.

Responsibility of Master. One of the modern manifestations of the master's responsibility for the actions of a third party caused by the servant's neglect or carelessness, the speaker said, was the almost universal custom of taking out accident insurance by owners of automobiles for their chauffeurs.

WEDDED, ANNOUNCE

THEY'RE ENGAGED

Formal Announcement of Sullivan-Keeney Nuptials After Two Months.

Closely following up the announcement of their engagement, it became known today that Miss Elise Veronica Keeney, of 19 North Sixth street, East Orange, and George Waltham Sullivan, of South Ninth street, Roselle, had slipped away on November 30 and entered the matrimonial ranks, their parents being the only ones aware of it. It was after the marriage that the engagement was announced. No one suspected that it should have been a wedding announcement.

After deciding that they would be married they agreed to keep the date a secret. This they did, and, however, wished to announce the marriage at the time. The reason for the secrecy, Miss Keeney said, was because she wished to continue in the position she held with Joseph R. Woodruff, a lawyer, this city.

Rev. Thomas Martin, of St. Rose of Lima's Church, this city, performed the ceremony. Miss Helen Cross, of Brooklyn, attended the bride and Benjamin Bickerton, of Roselle, was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan are now making their home with Mr. Sullivan's mother at her residence in South Ninth street.

SPEAKER URGES PREPAREDNESS

chusetts, equal rights have been denied us, but among those who would refuse us this privilege there are very few who would not say that today their mothers, sisters and sweethearts are better qualified to vote intelligently than ever before.

"Is that preparedness on our part sufficient? You know my answer and what it has been for more than half a century, but while we are impressing others with the degree to which we have attained it is our duty to continue to perfect ourselves until such criticism can no longer find a place in the minds of those who are both fair and just."

The delegates were welcomed at this meeting by Mayor Victor M. Ravall. Brief remarks were made by numerous suffrage workers, who confined themselves mainly to the relating of experiences in the recent campaign. This meeting was designed for the launching of the educational propaganda which is intended to lead to victory for the suffragists in 1920.

Earlier in the evening the convention dinner took place in the Grand Union restaurant and many addresses were heard by the delegates.

Mrs. Perry R. MacNellie, president of the Woman's Suffrage Association of Summit, and Mrs. MacNellie's sister, Dr. Anna M. Richardson, industrial investigator for the Sage Foundation, were among the speakers.

Mrs. MacNellie's topic was "How to Interest Club Women in Suffrage," while Dr. Richardson spoke on "How to Interest the Workers in Suffrage."

"Like the soldiers of Europe, we have made a masterly retreat," were the words of Mrs. MacNellie, who declared the defeat of the last election. She declared, however, that there are no losses in the suffrage army, but that recruits had gradually swelled the hosts fighting for equal rights and the enfranchisement of women. She mentioned many prominent men who had aided in the campaign, and secured the force of "the cause" for their alleged unfair methods.

In closing, the State president urged the women to work in harmony for success the next time the referendum is presented before the voters of New Jersey.

After Mrs. Philip McKim Garrison had submitted the report of the legislative committee, she was asked who was responsible for the failure to have the ballot numbered and she declared that although she was not certain, she believed the Republican majority in the Lower House were the cause of this trick, which she believed cost the suffragists thousands of votes. One delegate from Camden, mentioned that Senator Charles A. Rathbun, of Morris County, could explain the truth about "the missing numbers." Others who spoke openly declared that corruption had been the cause of the referendum.

A tribute to Dr. Anna Howard Shaw was paid by Mrs. Ward D. Kern, who told the story of her husband's fund which it is planned to present to Dr. Shaw on her birthday, February 14.

George M. Gangwisch, a candidate at the Republican primary for Board of Works, resigned last night from the Gangwisch Association. The members of the association accepted the resignation and voted to continue their organization under the name of the Edward Kunkle Pleasure Club. The Gangwisch Association was one of the Republican clubs which endorsed Charles F. Gillen, independent Democrat, in his run for the Board of Works after the primary.

CLINTON HILL IMPROVERS TO OUTDO ROBERT TREAT POSTER

The Clinton Hill Improvement Association is going to go to the Committee of One Hundred one better in the way of a subject for a poster design, despite the extent to which the Robert Treat poster has been exploited, according to Theodore S. Fettingler, who is president of the association, and in charge of its year book. The year book will be issued as a souvenir at the association's annual banquet at the Washington on Wednesday evening, February 8.

Mr. Fettingler made the remark about the improvement on the committee's choice in a statement issued today after reading that the publicity sub-committee of the Committee of One Hundred had found itself unable to accede to a request by the improvers for 4,000 reduced reproductions of the Robert Treat poster for use in the year book.

The publicity committee was informed of the improvers' request at a meeting yesterday by Henry Wellington Wack, executive adviser. There had been a previous request for plates of the Robert Treat poster used in the printing of a supplement to the December issue of the Newarker. On that occasion the committee stated the association could have its permission to use the plates if arrangements could be made with the printers. The request was made Wednesday in different shape and asked definitely for 4,000 reduced reproductions. For more than a week all the tickets for the annual banquet have been sold, Mr. Fettingler stated.

TUBE STATION CASE TO BE HEARD AGAIN

Utility Board Grants Plea of Jersey City Association for Rehearing.

From a Staff Correspondent. TRENTON, Jan. 22.—The Board of Public Utility Commissioners today granted a rehearing to the Manufacturers and Property Interests Association, of Jersey City, in the fight to compel the Pennsylvania railroad to build a tube station at Marion. The utility board came time ago, by a vote of 2-1, denied the application for the station. The decision today was unanimous.

Fire in Leather Plant Causes $4,000 Damage

A smoky fire in the plant of the Automobile Leather Manufacturing Company, at 22 Christie street, about 10 o'clock last night caused about $4,000 damage, principally to leather in process of manufacture, and threw forty men out of work temporarily. The fire started on the second floor of the two-story brick building, probably from an overheated oven in the japanning department, and was seen first by Thomas Lynch, a watchman employed by firms in Fleming avenue. He notified the night watchman of the leather factory and sent in an alarm from Christie street and Fleming avenue, while the factory watchman sent in an alarm on the A. D. T. service.

Large quantities of chemicals used in preparing the leather gave the fire a quick start, and the flames were breaking through the roof when the firemen arrived. The fire was confined to the upper story, a one-story building adjoining the factory furnishing a favorable position for the firemen.

Anniversary Poster Stamps Ready for Distribution Soon

Fifteen million poster stamps, advertising the 25th anniversary celebration, will be ready for distribution by the Committee of One Hundred on or about February 10, Henry Wellington Wack announced today. The stamps are reproductions of the three prize-winning entries in the Newark poster contest.

The stamps will be given to anyone desiring to use them in a manner that will help the celebration. The next Newarker will contain an insert bearing a stamp application blank and suggestions about the methods of distribution. The committee requests that mailed applications be accompanied by stamps to cover postage.

Volunteer Workers and Staff of North End Branch of Charity Bureau Meet

At the weekly meeting of the staff workers and volunteers of the North End Branch of the Bureau of Associated Charities, 18 Belleville avenue, yesterday afternoon, Miss Molly Hanowitz, assistant district secretary, represented that branch in the absence of Miss Marie Dyckman, district secretary. About eighteen persons were present and discussed informally problems and cases which the welfare work had developed. The meeting was executive. Michael N. Chasins, however, of this city, presided as chairman of the meeting.

Next week the question will be brought before the staff workers of whether or not press representatives will be admitted to the meeting, whether, as in the past, the discussions will continue to be informal and confidential.

Suffrage Success in Eighth Ward of City Laid to Team Work

How efficacious was the concentration campaign directed upon the voters of the Eighth ward of this city by members of the Woman's Suffrage party of Newark, during the suffrage campaign last fall, was one of the features of the reports made yesterday during the convention at Elizabeth.

The Eighth ward was the only ward in the city that carried a large majority October 19 and the reason for this success has been by common consent ascribed to the team work of the members of the Woman's Suffrage party.

Mrs. R. M. Laird, chairman, gave a resume of the methods by which this victory had been scored in the course of yesterday's meeting. Chief among the causes that contributed to success was the circular letter, signed personally by thirteen women of the Eighth ward and mailed to the voters of the ward, numbering over 3,500. Mrs. Frank Ambler Patterson's school for watchers in Essex county, in which Mrs. Howard Dods assisted, also came in for honorable mention by Mrs. Laird. The entire amount of the fund which was raised by the Woman's Suffrage party was $68.53, of which all but $1.50 was disbursed. Mrs. Charles D. Karr served as treasurer.

More Watershed Land Is Taken Over by Newark in Sussex County Township

Acquisition of more lands in the Pequannock watershed district has been completed by the city for anti-pollution purposes. The 120 acres in Kersey Township, Sussex county, has been passed to the city by Abram L. Farber. The consideration was $4,500.

An undivided one-sixth interest and undivided one-thirtieth interest in a farm of 386 acres in the same township was also acquired by the city for $3,000. The city also acquired one-sixth undivided interest in the land. Another parcel of land acquired contains 13,000 square feet, which is in Hardyston Township, Sussex county, and was purchased for $120,000. The city paid $3,000. Houses on the properties named were included in the purchases.

A regular meeting last night at the club rooms, 37 Belleville avenue, Morris Patterson and Louis Scholnick were initiated into the club.

A surprise miscellaneous shower was tendered Miss Mary Ten Broeck, of 169 Parker street, by Miss Julia McEvoy at the home of Mrs. J. J. McCarthy, 30 Thirtieth street, Thursday evening. Among those present were the Misses Nellie Boon, May Moran, Nellie Dugan, Julia Carroll, Kittle Carroll, Mary McCarthy, Elizabeth McEvoy, Julia McEvoy, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McNish, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller, Misses Rose Thorne, Rose Reynolds, Julie Kathryn, and Anna Limpert, Jennie Conlon, Margaret Caffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Justin McCarthy, James Caffery, James Lawler, William Clifford, Lillian Clifford, Jerome Clifford, William Moffat, Thomas Mattern, Joe Limpert, George Limpert, John Graham and Andrew McCarthy.

The Men's Club of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will hold a supper in the parish hall, Clinton and Elizabeth avenues, next Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Mr. J. Thomas L. Raymond has accepted an invitation to be present, and will explain the proposed city charter. A discussion of the subject will follow. Arthur J. Guide, president of the club, will be toastmaster.

Miss Margaret Hitt, of 730 Lake street, entertained the members of the Young Women's Literary Society last night. The speaker of the evening

Lost Horse Is Found by Two Youngsters

A horse and wagon valued at $200 belonging to Charles Chapman, of 31 Eaton place, East Orange, which was reported to Captain Peter J. Christie, of the Third Precinct Police Station, yesterday afternoon as having disappeared from Prospect and Market streets, was found two hours later by John Christofoli, eleven years old, of 48 Jefferson street, and George Lorde, twelve years old, of 10 Jefferson street.

Chapman, who conducts an express business, had left his team to deliver a package of goods and when he returned a few minutes later it was missing. He does not know whether the horse walked away or was driven by someone, but as it was found a short distance from where it was reported missing he was of the opinion that the horse may have wandered off and later was stopped by someone who failed to notify the police department.

Another feature was the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the city of Newark, when announcement was made at the meeting of the Nova Cesare Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, held in the Y. W. C. A. hall, that the chapter would present a handsome bronze tablet to the city.

A picture of the tablet was shown to the members and was enthusiastic about it. Mrs. Everard Hopwood is chairman of the tablet committee and she announced that the tablet would be placed in Elmwood Park, where General Washington is reported to have camped for weeks during the Revolutionary war. The unveiling will take place on May 3.

During the past year a number of new members were enrolled and the chapter, which is in a flourishing condition, is continually growing.

A card party and dance was held last night in Krueger Auditorium under the auspices of the Alumnae Association of St. Aloysius Parochial School. There were about 600 present.

Following the card games the floor was cleared for dancing. The general committee of arrangements was B. O'Reilly, chairman; Miss Margaret Bannan, Edward Martin, Mrs. William Doyle, Mrs. Mary Brady, Bessie Fanning, May Brady, Anna McCreath, Margaret O'Connor, Mary Reilly, Kathleen Holland, Vita Dolan and Elsie McKeon. James A. Fitzsimmons, Carl Fanning, William Doyle, Andrew Martin, James McEvoy and Frederick Katz. The floor manager was William Doyle, assisting him were William Doyle, James Fitzsimmons, Thomas Sinnott and James J. Brady.

Local Police Nab Man Wanted for Some Time

Charged with embezzling a diamond ring worth $150, Allen Krichman, twenty-five years old, 409 Plane street, was arrested today by Sergeant Sebald and Detective Rottenberg by police headquarters. The warrant was sworn out August 1 by John Stille, of 372 South Twelfth street, who says that he entrusted the ring to Krichman to sell it.

The police say that Krichman is also wanted for passing a bad check on Stutenburgh & Co. clothes, several months ago. He gave a worthless check for $30 to pay for clothes he received, they say. He will be arraigned on both charges before Judge Grace in the First Precinct Court Monday.
